He was a man of over 60 years and was to meet a son at the hotel.

RALSTON SECURES THE PARADISE MINES

WINNEMUCA, June 20.—W. J. Ralston, a California and Nevada mining man, has acquired the Paradise group of claims from W. J. Bell and E. Reinhart, company, and the Bullion group from the Charles Kemler estate. These mines are located in the Santa Rosa mountains at the head of the Paradise Valley, at old Spring City. They were famous producers in the early days and were shut down on account of the low price of silver. The Paradise group is worked with having paid $100,000 in dividends and the Bullion with having produced over half a million. When the decline of the price of silver was responsible for the mines closing and remaining idle so many years, the gold value are considerable.

Ralston, since he has bought several days ago and inspected a number of mining properties. It is said that development in the extensive mine will soon be commenced.

to be furnished by you also. Watson, Mather Field, Calif., June 20.—To Watson, Divide-Tonopah Chamber of Mines will bear transportation and all other necessary expense for aviators while here. Divide-Tonopah Chamber of Mines, Vice-Chairman J. G. Cram.

Washington, D. C., June 20.—J. G. Cram, Tonopah, Nevada, an advised today by department of aeronautics that official order had been issued for planes to be in Tonopah July 4th. Your telegram of today received. Will take this matter up personally and see if I can arrange matters accordingly, but was greatly pleased to be able to get planes for your celebration. I wish you success. J. B. Henderson.

Fred Porter, first vice-president of the Pacific club will leave this evening for Mather Field to attend to the details of making the voyage and ascertaining the exact requirements of the army in making a landing here. It is certain that the big planes cannot come any closer than the dry lake, fourteen miles from town owing to the difficulty of finding an area of sufficient acreage to render safe the landing. The lake is an ideal place as it is as smooth as a billiard table for a distance of six miles in either direction. However this will not prevent the children from enjoying the spectacle of a couple of real war planes in flight as the machines will circle Tonopah several times during their short stay here. The machines will be De Havilland 400-horse power Liberty motored known as the two seater carrying two men and used for fighting purposes or scouting as distinctive from the huge bombing planes. The flight will be under the direction of Lieutenant Col. Henry L. Watson, commandant at Mather Field. Mr. Porter estimates that the distance between here and Reno will be covered in two hours and that the flight from Sacramento will take four hours flying time compared to 21 hours and 50 minutes by train.

HARVARD WINS

In a 13-mile race, the Crimson's time being 14 minutes and 31 seconds for the distance. Harvard finished two lengths ahead of Princeton in that race. On May 3 Yale defeated Princeton in a two-mile race on the Housatonic by a length with the difference in time about four seconds. Frequent changes in the seating of the crew candidates, however, nullifies any line which might be drawn from these performances.

The regatta day program, subject to favorable weather conditions, called for two races in the forenoon and the main event late in the afternoon. The freshmen eights will race upstream from the navy yard to Bartlett's Cove at 10 a. m. and a half-hour later the second varsity combination will row over the same course. At 5 p. m. the four-mile varsity contest will be started from Bartlett's Cove and the crews will row down stream to the railroad bridge. The Harvard crew of 1918 in winning this race, established the existing record when the Crimson oarsmen drove their shell over the four miles in 20 minutes and 2 seconds.

Marble Caves of Oregon.

Amid the wilds of southwestern Oregon, almost unknown to the world at large, is situated a series of underground chambers and passages remarkable for their size and for the beauty and unusual character of their decorations, says F. E. Tuck in Popular Mechanics Magazine. Within the last few years they have been made a national monument and are now known as the Marble Caves of Oregon.

Squirrel's Pathetic Search.

In moving some quilts in the cottage of Fred Hayden of Northwest Abbot, Me., five little squirrels were spilled on the floor, one of them being killed. The mother squirrel was quickly on the scene, taking one at a time and hastening upstairs with it. The fourth one she dropped at the foot of the stairs and rushed back with frantic haste, thoroughly looking over the contents of the room for the fifth one. She even climbed to the waists of the men and sniffed their hands in her search for her lost baby.—Boston Globe.

Women That Men Like.

"What we men want for the most part," says Thackeray, "is a humble, flattering, smiling, child-loving, tea-making being who laughs at our jokes, however old they may be, coaxes and wheedles us in our humors and fondly lies to us through life. In other words, the more essentially feminine woman is, the more irresistibly does she appeal to and attract our sex."

Had Improved on Phrase.

An aged banker once said to a friend: "Yes, I expect to marry one of the proudest and most beautiful girls in New York. You see, a young suitor sings to his sweetheart, 'Love Me—and the World Is Mine.' But I've got a better method, by jingo. I sing, 'Love Me—and the World Is Thine.' I'm bound to win out, don't you think so, George?"

Horses Knew Allotted Task.

In the miles of Hahnault horses that travel back and forth over a certain road exactly thirty times each day go to the stables of their own accord after their last trip, and refuse to take another step. In Montaigne's Essays it is stated that the oxen employed in the royal gardens of Spain for turning the wheels to which the water pails were attached refused to make more than the hundred rounds that constituted their daily task.
